The five plan texts from which novice policy debaters may choose an affirmative case during the 2018-2019 season include the following:

The United States Federal Government should enact the DREAM Act of 2017.

The United States Federal Government should expand the definition of a 'particular social group' to include gender for the purposes of determining eligibility for asylum.

The United States Federal Government should substantially increase access and availability of H-1B visas in the United States.

The United States Federal Government should substantially reduce its restrictions on legal refugee immigration.

The United States Federal Government should open its borders to allow free movement of peoples.

No counterplans permitted.

No kritiks nor critical affirmatives permitted.
