

2022 Hall of Fame Inductee

John Gregory, Nampa High School

John Gregory spent the final twenty-seven years of his career at Nampa High School. He was the head coach for three varsity sports for sixteen of those years, coaching girls' basketball, softball and volleyball from 1988-2004. Prior to coming to Nampa, Gregory taught at Melba High School for five years and coached boys' and girls' basketball and field hockey, where his team went undefeated and beat Meridian High School in the Mythical State Championship. The final eleven years of his career, Gregory served as Nampa's athletic director.

With a total of forty-one years in education, Gregory became a statewide role model for coaches and athletic directors alike. He was, and continues to be, extremely involved in the Idaho Athletic Administrators Association, holding numerous leadership positions within the organization. He has received numerous awards from the IAAA as well as the NIAAA and the IHSAA. Gregory received the NIAAA Citation Award in 2011 and the IHSAA Distinguished Service Award in 2014.
