

Deward Bell – 1989 Hall of Fame Inductee

Deward Bell graduated from Albion High School where he played football and served as the team captain. He served in the United States Army during World War II and served 26 months overseas. After the war Deward completed his education at the Southern Idaho College of Education. His first teaching position was in Paul, Idaho and five years later he went to Homedale where he spent the remainder of his 36-year career in education. He served as teacher, coach, and principal at Homedale and went on to become superintendent, a position he held for 24 years until he retired in 1986.
